Wrong for school car wash fundraisers to emphasize teenage babes and bunks

Amateur car washes by local youth organizations have been a sure fire fundraising tactic in the Wayne-Westland area for ages, and one aspect we can count on is the high visibility placement of underage girls near traffic to lure whatever leering pervert might be driving by.

Am I the only one who finds this somewhat creepy?

The more disturbing implication is the lesson being reinforced in these kids- the pretty ones with more developed bodies are exploited as advertising or window-dressing and the "ugly" ones are the ones back there doing the real work washing cars.

This may be the unfortunate reality for women in our culture, but should we encourage and reinforce this in girls from a young age?

Caller says Romulus voters didn't want to give government freedom to spend Please, Mayor Mickey Mouse, give the voters in Romulus a little credit.

We understood perfectly what you were trying to do with your charter amendments, and we don't want to give you and your rubber-stamp council that much latitude to spend, spend, spend. And, just a reminder, about half the voters in your 1995 election didn't vote for you! You got beaten by 500 votes in 1983 and only won by about a half dozen votes in 1995 against Mayor McAnally. Too bad she doesn't want the job back.

Shame on Romulus school board members for approving $55,000 bonus

Romulus school board members, shame on you! $55,000 worth of bonuses would pay for at least two teachers to help alleviate the overcrowding in the Romulus school system.

Again, shame on you!

The whole county, not just Westland, should equip Wayne County Sheriff

Golf course, multi-housing openings a spur to Romulus

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A major economic shot in the arm for the City of Romulus took place Tuesday as the first nine holes of the Gateway Golf Club opened and visitors were welcomed to examine a number of enticing "family-friendly" housing styles.

David A. Hyde, director of golf club operations for Resco Inc., revealed Tuesday that the remaining nine holes will open later this August off Van Born Road.

Scores of city, school district and media related persons were invited to test the attractive new golf course on Tuesday, a course that was enhanced by one million cubic yards of dirt in the past year.

Hyde revealed "Gateway is an upscale public golf facility with private club conditions."

"Gateway contains four sets of tees on each hole to allow for maximum challenge and enjoyment for golfers of all skill levels," Hyde added.

To add to its luster, Hyde said, Gateway has hired enthusiastic PGA professional Curtis George to aid golfers improve their games.

Long before its opening this week, both the golf course and housing options have been the hottest of topics in Western Wayne County and beyond.

Detroit Metro Airport personnel - including pilots - are among those expressing interests in locating in the subdivision.

In addition, persons currently living in Canton and other nearby communities (including Romulus itself) are checking out potential home-sites for their families, Hyde said.

Prior to Tuesday's opening, the Romulus City Council approved 363 single-family lots, 23 four-plex buildings (that will house 92 condo units) and 97 duplex buildings (that will include 194 condo units).

The housing units are being offered by Stratford Homes, 248-926-9727; Italo-American Benivegna Master Builders, 248-788-7100 and Chippewa Homes/Gateway Condominium Co., 734-692-2532.

The first phase of home-buildings at Gateway Subdivision includes 114 single-family lots and eight four-plex (32 condo units). It was reported that 50 percent of the single home sites have already been reserved.

Phase II will include 93 more duplexes and 13 quads.

An early inspection of some of the homes and condos showed unique family options including four bedroom colonial and three bedroom ranch styles, as well as optional loft styles in the condos that offer unique computer work areas.

Scores of electrical outlets are available for the busiest of households and large windows, premium closet space and utilities are among the highlights of the homes.

Sidewalks and curbing are already visible near the housing models and ample parking and fire safety features are already on the books.

Bolden seeking commission seat

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Fred Bolden, a Canton Republican, has announced he is seeking the GOP nomination for 11th District County Commissioner, in a bid to challenge incumbent Democrat John Sullivan this November.

Prior to the general election, Bolden will face Rob Bovitz in the Republican primary. Bovitz is employed as a local CPA.

Bolden, formerly employed by Detroit Edison, is now operating as a E-Commerce Software Architect for DaimlerChrysler.

The latest candidate states he will work on four key priorities when elected to represent persons in Wayne, Romulus, Belleville as well as the townships of Canton, Huron, Sumpster and Van Buren.

Those priorities include:

Tax Reform - he will ask for published audits ... and challenge why and how services are provided throughout the county.

Infrastructure Improvements, Community and Economic Development - he states a comprehensive economic plan must be in place for both long term growth and short term gain.

Road and Traffic Improvements - will continue to fight to reform Public Act 51, which distributes fuel taxes and vehicle registration fees by formula to Michigan road agencies. The new formula would allow Township Supervisors and City Mayors to set priorities on where and how road dollars should be spent.

Wayne County Airport - he says currently the only way to get information from the county is through legislation. This will change, he vows, after several years of mismanagement, the commissions can no longer vote yes on the continued mismanagement of this facility.

As a candidate Bolden states he feels he has three integral qualifications needed on the county commission: interpersonal skills as well as a knowledge of both county government and economic development trends.

McAnally, ex-city workers win benefit battle

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Former Mayor Beverly McAnally and a string of former Romulus city employees have won a four-year battle over retirement benefits.

The action was pressed back in 1996 by McAnally, Donovan McGuire, Marilyn Radford, Marilyn Hoffer, Matthew Raftary, Mel Zilka, Steve Banko, William Greenslait and the late James Panos, who earlier served as the city's Department of Public Works director.

The former city workers were represented by attorneys Maryanne M. Helveston and Megan Bonanni.

City Attorney Stephen J. Hitchcock represented Romulus. Arbitrator William P. Daniel ordered on May 10 that "the 1993 retirement benefits for the plaintiffs be reinstated, as appropriate and that the plaintiffs be made whole by reimbursement for expenses with interest, caused by the rescission of those benefits."

Daniel also ordered the ex-city workers be awarded attorneys fees and costs in accordance with the calculation of each for actions as though pursued through the circuit court, but only as to successfully contesting the 1993 rescission.

The listed retirement package contained the following: 50 percent payment of the health plans after five years of service to the city, 75 percent payment after eight years and 100 percent payment after 10 years.

In addition the worker's life insurance coverage was raised to $50,000 each--up from a previous $20,000 amount.

In addition the worker's life insurance coverage was raised to $50,000 each - up from a previous $20,000 amount.

Council members Randy Gear and William Wadsworth and former Council member Russell Lambert confirmed that when the package had been presented to the council by McAnally "there were no objections."

According to the arbitrator's papers, "if anyone had objected to the revisions, the matter would have been tabled and brought back for further review."

"In November 1995, McAnally was defeated (by William Oakley) in her bid for re-election and shortly thereafter terminated her appointees (although Hoffer retired).

The dates of those actions ranged from Nov. 10, 1995 to Jan. 12, 1996," the arbitrator's report states.

"The plaintiffs were required to make co-payments on these health plans and from December 1995-June 1996 the council approved city payments without question," the papers state.

Daniel reports "though the plaintiffs take the silence or inaction of the council as a ratification, the evidence is less than convincing."

"In other words, silence did not constitute the necessary legal resolution under the City Charter," the report continues.

Revisions listed in 1995 "are quite a different matter," the report states.

Those changes were not merely superficial, the report goes on, "they proposed some very extraordinary benefits with considerable future cost to the city."

A change such as these should have been submitted for close and careful scrutiny by the council, the report states, "instead it was simply put on the mayor's agenda with a number of other items."

Even though the changes had been in place and implemented since the previous August, such was done without the knowledge or approval of the council, it states.

Daniel states "to say that the council unanimously accepted them as tantamount to resolution is an argument without logic."

Thus the arbitrator states "the 1995 amendments were neither established by resolution of the council nor were they ratified or adopted. The fact that such existed for some six months afterwards was caused by inattention or lack of information and did not constitute an intent to accept the new benefit level."

When the council in June 1996 acted to rescind both the 1993 and 1995 amendments, it could act only on the 1995 levels, Daniel ruled.

It thus was concluded "although the defendant (the city) did not violate any law, statute or right of the plaintiffs in regard to the 1995 updates, it is found that it violated the Michigan Constitution by unlawfully rescinding the retirement benefits as provided for in the 1993 Policies and Procedures Manual."

Daniel also added the city also "violated the 1993 Policies and Procedures Manual in regard to the upgraded benefits, because it had ratified the actions of the mayor thereby establishing a legal contract."

An thus the city "failed to accord the plaintiffs their right to due process, prior to rescinding such benefits," Daniel concluded.

Daniel retains jurisdiction for a period of 90 days to assist parties in calculations in the event they are unable to agree or to consider a petition for alternate relief in terms of cash value...or for any particular application in regard to the Panos estate.

Judy Lewis of Romulus will retire from ABF Freight System Inc. on June 30.

Lewis has been working in the payroll department at the Detroit terminal for 21 years.

She plans to initiate a one cruise per year lifestyle this summer with her husband, by traveling from Boston to Montreal.

Next year she hopes to take an Alaskan cruise.

Lewis has lived in Romulus for 31 years. She and her husband have raised four children: Roger, Lynn, Karen and Jerry.

Three area students have been named to the Adrian College dean's list.

They include:

Cheryl L. Gniewek of Canton, who is a junior majoring in interior design. She is the daughter of James and Lynn Gniewek and is a 1997 graduate of Dearborn High School.

Stacy Jolly of Wayne is a senior majoring in mathematics. He is the son of Gordon and Linda Jolly and is a 1997 graduate of Wayne Memorial High.

Adam M. Goyt of Westland is a junior majoring in mathematics and German. He is the son of Matthew and Roberta Goyt and is a 1998 graduate of Wayne Memorial High.

Jennifer Hoffman of Romulus has been awarded a $1,000 scholarship from the Baxter Allegiance Foundation.

Hoffman was selected from over 400 applicants.

Anna Rolf of Wayne has been awarded an athletic scholarship for women's soccer by Concordia University in Seward, Neb.

She is the daughter of John and Cheryl Rolf and is a graduate of Lutheran High School.

In addition to athletic scholarships, Concordia awards academic scholarships and a large number of privately endowed scholarships and grants.

Margaret Newberry of Canton has been awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in teaching and elementary education from the University of Northern Iowa.

Newberry was one of 1,300 students who were graduated at two commencement ceremonies at the UNI-Dome.

Top students speak out

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus High School's Class of 2000 was praised for its teamwork and its concept of "victory as a whole," earlier this month by Class Valedictorian Erin Conway.

Conway told classmates and students' family members that "being the first class of the millennium so much was expected of us. And to satisfy those expectations we had to stick together and work as a team."

She added "today we are finally reaping the rewards of our hard work...and from academics to athletics, our accomplishments have outnumbered those from classes before us."

Conway stressed that graduates should remember the "solid network of friends, family and mentors that helped you achieve your goals."

"My counselor, Al Wilkerson, reminds me that in the real world, who you know will be a determining factor in your success."

"In the years ahead, your network will grow as you meet more people...and this process will continue all through your life," he reminded me.

"Being the first class of the millennium so much was expected of us. And to satisfy those expectations we had to stick together and work as a team."

- Erin Conway

In addition to being class valedictorian, Conway also won more than $8,500 in scholarships of various types including the Michigan Merit Scholarship-MEAP Test award of $2,500 and the Romulus Rotary Club Scholarship of $1,000.

In addition Salutatorian Brooke Thompson spoke on the host of memories her classmates will take with them the rest of their lives from Romulus High School and the scores of options they will have as they plan the rest of their lives.

Romulus seniors celebrate

Romulus senior citizens, their friends and family members and students from Merriam Elementary School and the Middle School joined in marking Senior Appreciation Day recently in the park behind the Romulus Senior Center.

Under the direction of Senior Center Coordinator Linda Norman, the participants enjoyed hot dogs, sloppy joes and a series of games.

Mayor William Oakley, his assistant David Cox, 34th District Court Judge Brian Oakley, attorney Steven Robinson and some council members joined in the festivities.

Due to windy conditions that day, the festivities were moved inside the senior center where bingo and other games took place.

Oakley later surprised the gathering with cake and ice cream later.

Belleville needs artists

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Calling all artists...you are critically needed this summer in Belleville.

Once again for the fourth year the Belleville Art Colony will be opening up in Victory Park from 2 to 6 p.m. each Sunday under the direction of the Belleville Area Council.

The weekly events are planned by the Art Colony committee, which is a sub-committee of the Belleville Area Council for the Arts. It is composed of Tim Marsh, Kim Ensch and Jane Kovach.

They revealed they are looking for artists of all types -- those who specialize in pencil or paint drawings of any other medium for a two-dimensional art form.

"We are looking for art enthusiasts from beginners to professionals," the committee said.

In addition, they stated, "when you arrive on any Sunday you wish to take part, you will be given a free vendors permit from the city of Belleville for that particular day, which will enable you to sell your art at no expense to you."

Local artists are also en-

Official ground-breaking for church this Saturday

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The official ground-breaking for the new Full Gospel Church of Plymouth will occur at noon Saturday on Ecorse Road in Romulus.

Pastor Frank Howard said city and church officials are being invited to the noon ceremony and the entire church congregation of 100 or more is being offered a church picnic at the site 33200 Ecorse Road that day.

Howard said the 24-year-old church congregation (that began in a basement in Belleville and is now located in Plymouth) hopes to have its new 300-seat sanctuary and church structure ready to open in the fall of 2001.

A change in church name will take place at that time.

"We also plan to have the portion of the land where the church will actually be placed staked out for public examination on Saturday," Howard said.

Ultimately the church also hopes to add a softball and soccerfield to the site in future years, Howard said.

Howard and Youth Pastor Dan Fisher will be among those wielding shovels this Saturday.

Leaders of the Christ Our Savior Lutheran Church of Canton and Livonia will be attending the "Celebrating the Good News in a New Day" convention of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod from June 25-28 at Concordia College in Ann Arbor.

Those slated to attend the 96th annual convention include: Pastors Luther Werth and Robert Tayer, Lay Representative Larry Dibble and Tim Bode, assistant to the pastor for outreach and worship.

The Livonia church has been a member of the Lutheran Church's Missouri Synod since Feb. 6, 1977. It added the Canton worshipping site in Canton in 1997.

That second site is located at 46001 Warren Road, just west of the Canton Center Road. Sunday services are offered at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday, with Bible studies at 10:45 a.m.

The Gethsemane Missionary Baptist Church of Westland will conduct its 37th anniversary and homecoming this Sunday.

The Rev. Willie W. Davis, church pastor, said the main service will be conducted at 11 a.m. Sunday with the Rev. T. Knighten of the Pilgrim Travelers Baptist Church of Inkster as the guest speaker.

Gethsemane Baptist Church is located at 29066 Eton St. in Westland.

Football game prayers nixed

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Christians growled and ACLU leaders said they were "heartened" by the U.S. Supreme Court's decision this week to ban public school supported prayers at football games.

Christian leaders and students raised in religious families feel the decision is a "further eroding of Christian values pressed by the nation's founders."

A further indepth story on local reactions to the court decision is being planned for later editions of the Michigan Community Newspapers.

Kary Moss, executive director of the Michigan ACLU, stated "the decision reaffirms a very important principle, that public schools cannot be a place for religious worship."

Justice John Paul Stevens - writing for the majority - complained school sponsored prayer "tells nonadherents they are outsiders."

New golf course community takes shape in Romulus

Positive signs that Romulus and Wayne are making great strides are all around us, but one of the biggest signs can be seen from Van Born Road where a new, upscale golf community is taking shape quickly.

If you haven't driven down Van Born lately you might not know what I am talking about because it was only last fall when the golf course layout became readily visible. Now nine holes are complete and from all indications it will be one of the finer public golf courses in the area.

The Jerry Matthews designed Gateway Golf Club course is 6,700 yards in length with water coming in to play on more than half the holes. Bentgrass fairways and large greens accentuate the flat, but rolling layout. More than 1,000,000 cubic yards of dirt were hauled to the site to create target definition, both off the tees and into the greens. Four tee boxes allow beginners to compete with professionals on what is being billed as a player friendly layout.

I know when I first saw the rolling fairways sprinkled with several sand bunkers from Van Born Road, I couldn't believe my eyes! This was to be in our own backyard - a golf course rivaling many of those you had to travel hours to reach. Now I can't wait to swing my fairway wood on the first hole. I betcha I and others will be swinging away for many fun hours the next several years. You might have noticed advertisements in this newspaper touting some pretty fair membership rates. If you're a golfer they are worth checking in to.

But Gateway is more than a golf club. It is a community that once finished will have 363 single family homes and 286 condominiums. That could mean up to 2000 residents will live in the upscale golf community that lies in Romulus, but borders Wayne. With the exception of Canton no municipality in the area can boast an upscale development of such magnitude.

Unlike Canton, however, is the price of the housing. Homes will range around $200,000, or probably 25% less than what the same home would cost in Canton or Livonia. Most of the homes will abut the golf course, water or both.

A prospective home purchaser can choose from four builders and several floor plans. One of the nicer plans presented to us was The Pebblecreek, a four-bedroom Colonial with a large family room and state-of-the-art energy features.

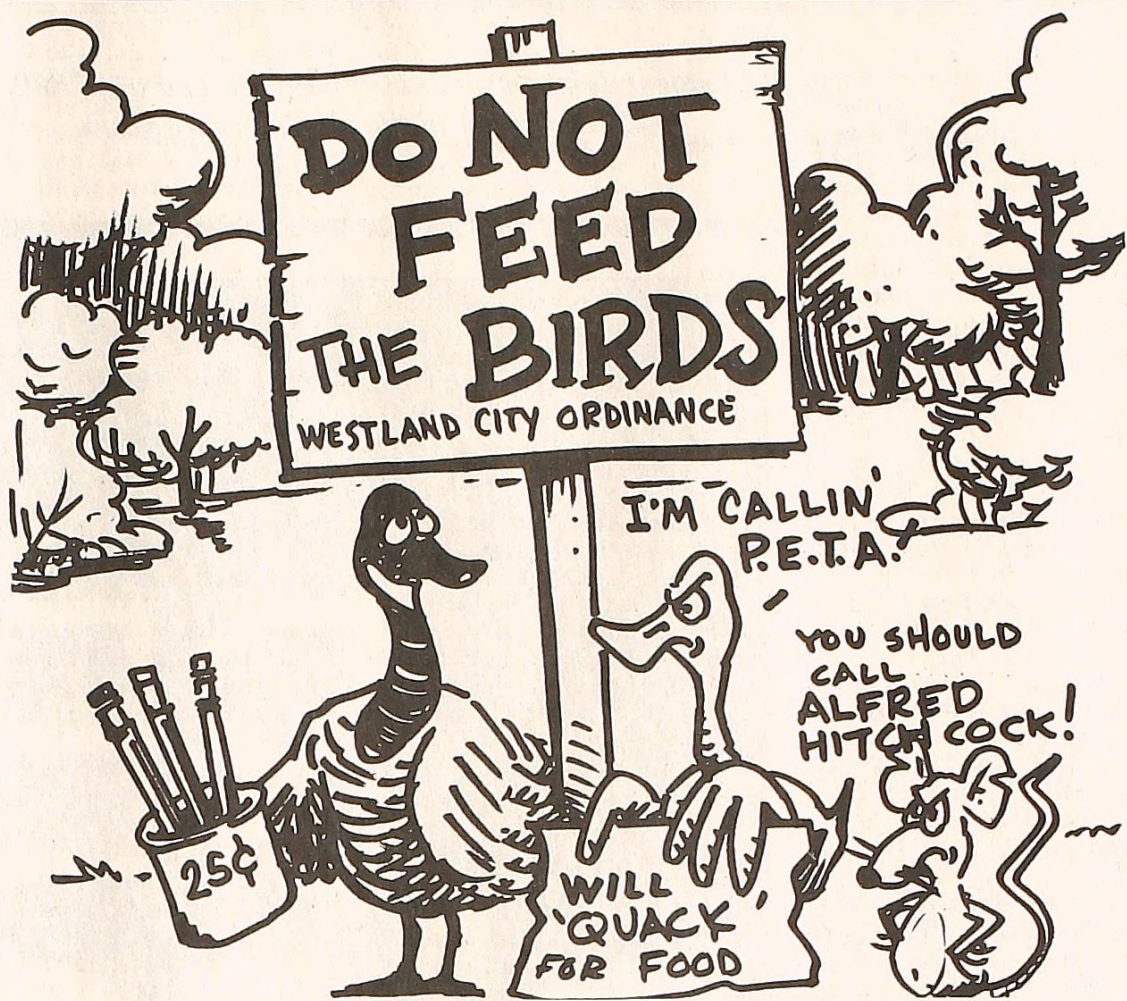

As with the golf course, I left impressed. The Gateway developers, Resco Inc., could have built this community most anywhere and enjoyed tremendous success. Instead they took an old farm field called by one of the country's best golf architects, Matthews, the flattest site he had seen in 40 years, and transformed it into a beautiful upscale community. I hope they succeed beyond their wildest dreams.

If you get a chance check it out. The golf course opens this week, and with all the rain we've had, it is in beautiful shape. The model homes are open as well, with many lots still available.

Mike's musings

Sorry, sorry, oh so sorry

I lost track of the number of apologies requested at Monday night's Westland City Council meeting.

Lettie Thomas, a black secretary from Detroit, asked Chief Emery Price to apologize to her for allegedly being stranded penniless on the street by Westland police, who, she alleges, targeted her companion, a black chemical engineer from Houston, for driving a BMW while black.

The chief apologized for the way Thomas felt, but not for the actions of his officers.

This didn't set well with either Ms. Thomas or her many supporters, who promised to return and push the issue.

Why either the city council or Chief Price wishes to keep hashing out this issue isn't clear. Not only is a simple apology owed to Thomas who suffered needlessly, in my opinion, as a result of the city's procedures rather than racial profiling, but it seems pointless to nurture a reputation for racial profiling when its improbable that either Price, Mayor Bob Thomas, or the city council would allow racial profiling.

Whatever Price's reasons for

not apologizing, it would end a problem instead of exasperating it big time.

Roger Caldwell, through his attorney Lyle Dickson, demanded that City Council President Trav Griffin apologize for not allowing all citizens time to speak at the first June council meeting. Caldwell's request was accompanied by a threat: "Should this request be denied in part or whole, Mr. Caldwell will immediately commence an action in the appropriate judicial body against the city council for a violation of the Open Meetings Act."

When Dickson repeated the request at the meeting, Griffin denied refusing to allow everybody to speak.

"I had acknowledged one person to speak and the two other hands that were up had spoke," Griffin said. "Therefore, I felt comfortable to close citizens comments and move on . . . Had someone informed me that there were people who wanted to speak, I would have called on them. It's not the intent of me or council to deny people an opportunity to speak."

However, after a slew of people identified themselves as people who couldn't speak, many council members offered diluted apologies.

Councilmen Glenn Anderson, David Cox and Richard LeBlanc acknowledged not focusing on whether people were able to speak.

As far as Dickson is concerned: "Griffin lightened up his position and said that he didn't believe he violated the Open Meetings Act, but if he did, he was sorry."

That satisfied Dickson, who said: "Griffin did an excellent job ensuring everyone had a chance to speak Monday. I commend him for this, and hope it continues."

"It was never alleged that the violation of the Act was intentional. The hour was getting late and the members were interested in leaving. Unfortunately, several citizens were also there waiting for the opportunity to speak, but never received the opportunity. These individuals had been identified and were willing to file affidavits. As a result of the council's actions, Mr. Caldwell will suspend the commencement of any action, pending any possible future violations of the Act by any member of Council."

That apology worked. A sideshow issue and a court case were averted.

Several people asked Councilman Cox to apologize for allegedly calling Judy Marentette a rude name under his breath from the podium, claiming that the insult was audible in the council chambers.

Cox ignored the requests, drawing jeers from the audience, and pouring more fuel on the fires of the recall drive.

Perhaps the recall's hardcore rhetoric prompted Cox's combative nature. That's understandable. Just like it's understandable that Price's first instinct is to defend his police officers.

But apologies serve a purpose. They give people a way out of a dangerous corner.

By apologizing to the people who weren't allowed to speak on June 5 and doubling his efforts to allow everybody to speak Monday, Griffin deftly repaired a bad situation.

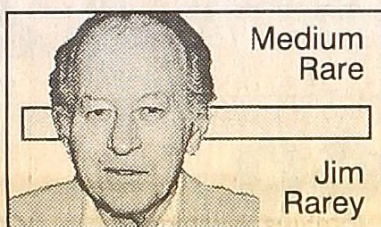

The others should take heed.

Recall drives - symptom or cure?

Throughout the Detroit metropolitan area, recall drives against local government officials and threats of recall are filling the air and newspaper pages. Are there really that many legitimate grievances that have not been satisfactorily addressed by government or are small but vocal minorities using the tactic as a weapon of intimidation? Depending on whom you talk to, both viewpoints are true.

The issues driving recall efforts and threats are as varied as the communities in which they occur. In Wyandotte, a recall is focusing on the mayor's refusal to invoke the city charter's residency requirement on an appointed official.

In Westland, the recall was sparked by the city council's firing of the city clerk after she had blown the whistle on illegal campaign practices of two council members.

Medium Rare

Jim Rarey

In Warren, there are so many issues that a dartboard could have been used to select a reason for recall. There are allegations of corruption that have sparked a FBI investigation.

A sex scandal, murder and suicide have stirred the pot in Macomb County's largest city. Activists finally decided on a large increase in water rates and the muzzling of council members opposing the Mayor by a council majority in adopting a three-minute time limit on council members' discussion of issues.

In Romulus, threats of recall may have influenced the city council to reject a settlement offer involving a hazardous deep injection well and a $100 million lawsuit against the city after they had been warned that rejection would result in cancellation of insurance coverage for the lawsuit.

Ironically, although no threats have yet been made, officials in Romulus and Novi may face the wrath of residents if they lose legal battles still in the courts. Novi has lost a $50 million lawsuit that it is appealing. Officials of Romulus' insurance company based cancellation of insurance coverage on their opinion it is "highly probable" the city will lose the lawsuit.

Such court judgments against the cities would undoubtedly result in a significant increase in taxes or a drastic slashing of city services, or both. In such an environment, incumbent government officials do not fare well in recall elections or subsequent regular elections.

My son the caterpillar doctor

Plans for my 25th class reunion are underway - and quite a few people are involved in it at this point. Thanks for responding!

What a cool thing - being in contact with each other after so many years. In some ways it's sort of weird and surreal. For most of us I'm guessing, the only images we have of each other are the ones in the dusty pages of our 25 year old yearbooks. And for many of us the only words exchanged in 25 years are in there too.

Those crazy, last days of high school when signatures, autographs, messages were scrawled on the pages of those yearbooks, hastily, in the hallways, in the classrooms, by our lockers in our small high school - boy, I don't think those things were written with the notion that they'd have to bear the weight of historical documentation, yet bear that weight they have.

What crazy teenagers we were! Thank goodness! At any rate, plans are in the making. And I can't wait for the reunion!

Okay. So I have to tell you about this other thing that happened just this past week. It's got nothing to do with reunions or old classmates or yearbooks. Nothing at all. Instead, it has to do with my kindergartner - my newly 6 year old. And a caterpillar.

It was like this. One day last week Jack went to the park with his brother Joe to play. I told the boys to be home at 5:00. And they were. On the dot. And Jack had brought home a new friend. He came in the house wild, exuberant, on top of the world, carrying in his mud-caked hands a fuzzy caterpillar.

"Mom, Mom! Look what I have! I found it. I can keep it in a shoe box or jar or something!"

I looked in his small hand to see a brown and black striped caterpillar, severely injured. Its back end was sort of smashed. Things that were supposed to be inside the caterpillar seemed to be sort of out. This didn't look good.

I questioned Jack about this poor creature. He'd found it at the park and it was his favorite, a caterpillar. And so he wanted to bring it home. I gently broke the news to my son that his caterpillar seemed to be very seriously hurt and might not live too much longer.

Jack's big brown eyes grew even bigger and began filling with tears. He said he would fix him. He said he would make him better. He said he'd prayed, real quiet like, at the park, to God. He prayed to God to help the caterpillar.

Oh, boy. "Okay," I said to Jack. "Let's find him a shoe box to keep him safe." Just that day Joe had brought home a shoe box project from school, very colorfully "tiled" with red and yellow squares of construction paper, very bright and cheery. With Joe's permission, that became the caterpillar's hospital room. Jack found a couple leaves, one dry and brown, one green, for the caterpillar to eat and/or hide under.

Family Room

The caterpillar, to my surprise, survived the night. The shoe box had been beside Jack's bed all night. The caterpillar hadn't moved, but it was still alive. Jack was so encouraged by this that he stepped up the level of care.

Not satisfied with simply keeping the caterpillar safe, fed, and loved, Jack put a toilet paper cast on the caterpillar's back end. He fashioned the cast out of a couple strips of toilet paper and a piece of scotch tape. When he showed me what he'd done, I was speechless. Good thing. Little Jack was so earnest. So innocent.

The caterpillar surprised everyone. Even sixteen year old

Tony. After supper that next night he walked past the shoe box, now sitting on the counter, and asked in a very loud, teenager voice, "What is this mummy caterpillar thing in a shoe box?" Jack calmly explained that it was not a mummy caterpillar, but a caterpillar in a cast. And before Tony could say anything else, he noticed the caterpillar's head was moving. It was still alive! Tony was duly surprised.

As gallant and noble as all Jack's efforts were with regard to saving the caterpillar's life, it did end up dying before the next dawn. Jack was very, very sad that morning. He had tried so hard and there had been such encouraging signs and this was all his own mission, this was his caterpillar.

I told him that the caterpillar had been very lucky to have found such a good friend in Jack during those last days. Someone who cared and believed and loved - in spite of everything, in spite of great odds. And that was the important thing. Jack, then, drew his sleeve across his nose, held his chin up and declared he would be a caterpillar doctor when he grew up. Or President. Or maybe both. I hugged him. What else could I do?

Canton engineer thanks River Day help, contributors

Dear Editor:

Canton's annual River Day, held on Saturday, June 3, was a tremendous success thanks to all of our sponsors, contributors, volunteers, and coordinators. Through everyone's generosity and commitment, we were able to efficiently focus our efforts toward improving the quality of the Rouge River and its tributaries.

Thank you to all of the residents, scout troops, students, friends, families, and others who charitably contributed their time and labor toward demonstrating Canton's environmental excellence. Also, thanks to Home Depot, Reliable Landscaping, and Action Landscape, for donating materials necessary for the facilitation of our project. Operations Management International (OMI) generously provided a pig roast and refreshments to all of the volunteers, as well as sponsored the event, along with Western Townships Utilities Authority (WTUA), and Friends of the Rouge. Thanks also to Canton's Board of Trustees and to the Canton Community for their continued support of this event.

With the help of more than 110 volunteers, all of our goals were met. A wood chip path was laid at Tonda Elementary School, posts were installed in preparation for building an observation deck at Field Elementary School, and a total of 30 shrubs were planted at both of the schools. The message "Dump No Waste, Drains to Rouge River," was stenciled adjacent to storm drains in most subdivisions within Canton, and children constructed more than 60 bird houses. Thanks again to all who helped make River Day a success. Hopefully we can consistently strive for this level of achievement so that we may continue to enjoy the environmental quality that we work so hard to protect.

Sincerely,
Kelly C. Kelly, P.E.

Parent doesn't appreciate in your face Compact for Achievement

To the editor:

Romulus Schools Compact for Achievement, a document so important the district goes to lengths to have every parent sign, is presented to parents without the signatures of the School Board members, the administration or the teachers. Why is that? Is the compact an agreement between all of us or is it the districts way of telling parents what they need to do?

The compact lays out what is required by each member. It tells students that they will come to school on time each day. It tells them that they will be respectful to the teacher and they will have a positive attitude. It tells them that they will learn. But what if what they are learning is that the squeaky wheel gets the grease. That if they follow all those rules they are overlooked and if they have behavior problems they are rewarded. Our school rewards students who have behavior problems with extra incentives if they follow the rules. Every student who has good behavior at the end of the day is rewarded with a High Five, which they can spend at the school store. Students who extend extra effort and have the grades we expect from them are not acknowledged as much as they should be. Two honors assemblies a year are not enough.

I have two children who are both high achievers. I feel that my daughter has been overlooked on a number of occasions. I brought this issue to the attention of the principal. She compared our school to her son's, which doesn't have a High Five store and reduced my concern to the personality of my daughter, which is quiet and non-assertive and to my personality, which she said, was intimidating and very protective. It was explained to me that the teachers my children have had were not comfortable telling me negative things about them. I spoke to my children's teachers now and in the past and found this not to be true. However it raised some important questions. Is the system set up to handle students who are introverted? Can such a student with so much to offer be given the same chance as anybody else? Can we see past their shyness and set goals that are challenging to them, and bring their achievements to the attention of others?

We have set up a school system based on incentives and rewards. When students like my daughter asks what more they can do to be noticed, I don't know what to tell her. She's not only asking why she wasn't picked for some things but what else can she possibly do to be picked. I have talked to many parents who feel the same way. Parents who have students as young as 2nd and 3rd grade and have asked them the same questions, what more can I do? Why should I bother with all the work? You and I know why they should bother but we need to let them know. They need incentives and rewards just like the other students do. When they see day to day the troublesome students reap the rewards for doing what the average and above students are doing on a regular basis you have a problem.

We don't want these children to lose their desire and motivation to do their best. They need this to carry them the rest of their school year as well as the rest of their lives. If we love these kids what will the future look like for them or our school. Our community is growing. New subdivisions are being built. These families want to know that our schools will be capable of meeting the needs of all of our children not just a chosen few. I feel strongly enough about this to bring it to the attention of everyone who plays a part in our children's education. Those who might be able to look at these issues more closely and perhaps do something about them. I started this because of my daughter but I feel it's much bigger than one student.

I don't appreciate year after year having this compact thrown in my face when I don't see everyone involved doing his or her part. When these issues I have mentioned here and others that have been brought to your attention have been addressed then we can draw up a compact with a signature page for everyone involved in our children's education to sign. Promising to come from the best interest of the children when making decisions about them and our school.

Sincerely,
Anne Lammers

Moffat's thank community for help after tragedy

To the Editor:

We would like to thank everyone in the community who had prayed, sent cards, food, fundraisers, the list is just too numerous to thank everyone personally. Again we are very grateful.

On October 21, 1999 at 6:50 in the morning our lives changed drastically. I sent a 15-year-old normal teenage boy out the door to go to school. When I got the call that there had been an accident the nightmare began. I no longer have that 15-year-old that can be left alone at anytime but to go to school on a part time basis and when he is in therapy.

I miss the child who had a lot of friends and off playing basketball, football, visiting with other kids. He is now in special education classes and he struggles with his schoolwork. He has short-term memory problems and learning difficulties. Paul was a very quiet child before this happened. He is now very outgoing he has become very impulsive, talkative, these are things we are hoping will settle down in time. On October 21, we lost a child but there can be no closure because we have someone that looks just like him. He is a different child. I miss and love the Paul we had on October 20, but I am getting to know and love the new Paul and loving him more everyday. He is our son.

Paul is much better than anyone anticipated, but he still has a long way to go. He has spent many hours going through many different therapies and still continues some of those today. He has set goals for himself by getting an accounting degree and playing major league baseball. Our hopes for him are that he can lead an independent and full life. It is hard for our whole family to lead a normal life because of the stares and the whispering that go on when we are out.

We are very grateful that we still have him but it is different today. He himself doesn't understand what he is going through and doesn't remember

WHAT ARE DENTAL IMPLANTS?

Implants, although they have been around for a number of years, are a relatively new development in the area of restorative dentistry. In the past, if you had a space open in your mouth, your only options for replacing that space were a bridge—a permanently fixed appliance, or a partial denture—a removable appliance. Now those two options are still the most widely used methods of replacing teeth, but the implant has been gaining in popularity and used in recent years, and you may hear of friends and coworkers who have had implants placed in their mouths.

An implant is basically a titanium screw that is surgically placed under the gums and in the bone of your mouth. Your own bone grows around the implant and locks it firmly into place as a sort of tooth "root". After an appropriate time to heal, the implant has a tooth crown cemented on it. This new restoration is a permanent fixture in your mouth and looks like a completely natural tooth.

There are other uses of implants, such as supports for complete dentures. In the coming weeks, look for more information on implants from Newburgh Heights Dental.

Westland gives writer the heebie-jeebies

Letter to the Editor:

Hi everyone,
Recently, I, The Fab Four Lady, had written to you all why I would no longer attend Westland social events.

Well, honey, let me tell you the latest. I had not been happy about the Westland residents' attitudes on destroying historical buildings. So, when I heard that the local museum had finally been allotted 20 G's, I thought that I would just CALL the museum to discuss how great this was.

Well, The Fab Four Lady DOES have a deep voice caused by throat surgery from many years ago, but, when I was discussing the confirmed 20 G's, then the Summer concerts with the museum lady, she told me to please give the concerts another try, but when she added to please "be sure to bring your WIFE," I thought, "No, thanks, my BOYFRIEND will do!"

Anyway, "Museum Lady" told me that we could dance at the concerts if we wanted, one of my points, how no one BUT us would dance. All we hear around here is stuff about "Daddy/Daughter Dances" and places where "teenagers go!"

And, you know, I just can't BELIEVE that people around here actually place ads stating for everyone to be sure to bring their folding chairs to the concerts!

How I'd love to belt someone with one of those geriatric folding chairs! At least they might get up and move! Or maybe if I held a "Snickers Bar" from a string on a stick, and moved away from them, they'd fall out of the chair and crawl with drooling lips till they reached their goal. Then again-maybe I should just get a-hold of Richard Simmons and do a special about people who haven't gotten out of their folding chairs for 10 years. He could share a hug and good cry with them, discussing, "Deal a Meal." And dancing--and "Sweatin' to the Oldies!"

Anyway, back to Museum Lady. She informed me how the concerts were not behind City Hall, rather the library, to which I must clarify-- she's right! I got it wrong! The concerts at which we were laughed at for dancing WERE behind the library--not CITY HALL! The City Hall folks were the ones who laughed at us for us riding on bicycles! Glad I got that straight--which place gave us which insult!

Oh yeh, I kept meaning to remember to mention that when we were laughed at for dancing, the "Footloose" mayor's office told us that dancing wasn't done because, "This is a conservative city."

Conservative, Hell! It's laziness, stupidity, a lack of the PROPER community spirit, the fear of being laughed at, and a total inexcusable cop-out, for starters.

But, I really am glad that the museum got the 20 G's, although, folks, they need twice that much! All of you spend more on junk food than you do on museums and historical projects!

Turn those donuts into dollars! For the museum! And, go visit it, as well!

Moving along, after I finally cooled down from the WIFE remark, and finished an otherwise mostly-pleasant conversation, I thought, "Oh, look, here's a 'Downtown Developments' supplement, fresh out of today's mail. Let's see what's goin' on!" Oh, here's Dillon's Jewelers.

Their new store is really pretty! THEY get an A+! And, they are friendly and courteous!

Our review continues. Oh, look, hon--here's the new McDonald's dump that already looks like it could be closed by the health department-- with garbage and spilled drinks on tables, countertops, and floors--at least the two times that we gave them a try. And, their outdoor signs sure were a dull, dim letdown. No flashiness or bright colors!

Moving along, here's the new Bray's restaurant.

Yeh, we too were just dying to go there when it first opened. But, we almost knocked ourselves out when we hit the solid blue wall of cigarette smoke, compliments of the smiling "regulars" with the rotted teeth. I'd love to write a fun ad for them! It was such a letdown!

Next! Oh, well the donkey statue's still cool. I once did a photo shoot on it for my own photo album. You know, places of photographic interest, to show my friends in California. So, naturally, when I saw that there was a contest to finally give the donkey a name, I thought, Well, I'll be darn! There IS something of interest here. Now, let's just read this ad. "Please Help Me. Can Someone Please Name Me?"

Can you imagine 30 years with no name? I thought how that poor donkey finally deserved a break. I'll give him a name!

But, wait--what is that last line? "THE KIDS CAN DO IT!" My, God! It's the kid crap again!

Next! Well, I'll read the long article on the Westland Summer Festival. Maybe this year the fireworks and pot smokers won't set fire to the trees or each other! Oh, Lord! The Kiddy Fairy has zapped the festival again with phrases such as "family activities" and "family day." Yeh, sounds really adult. Whatever happened to "come one, come all?" Oh, this is rich: "We've really geared that day's events to the family." Whose family, I wonder? Doris Day's? Mr. Rodgers? Charlie Manson's?

Let's scan. Anything for adults, yet? Free games for the kids. Please stop! Clowns! Stop it, I say! Jugglers! Stop it! I'll tell you anything! Just please stop!

Hey! How 'bout a pie-eating contest! Scre-e-a-m-m-!!! Followed by incoherent rambling and crying jags.

Pie-eating? Another physical fitness/ladylike event? Well, I guess since no one is fixing their hair or doing their makeup, the pie MIGHT be an improvement. Had disgusting beyond belief to teach that pigging out on pies is acceptable behavior! And, to actually give out awards for it! I could just throw up!

If there are any adults left in Westland, give me a call. They seem to have all died of stagnation, boredom, and old age. Do ANY of them believe in imagination and being young at heart?

Oh, yeh, I called the number posted in that paper. You know, the one for "suggestions and comments," etc. How did I know that they wouldn't care enough to return my call? I told them they wouldn't on their answering machine.

The next time, I will just throw away the paper.

No one cares what MY interests are, though my young-at-heart attitude does not include hanging out all day at baby-fests! I'll leave that to the babies!

Oh, I think the car show mentioned is supposed to be the adult attraction. Or was it the booze, cigarettes, or food? Maybe the pot patrol reasons that it all seems better once the drugs kick in.

But, I'm STILL wondering, where are the athletics or speeches about our country's independence for which we celebrate the Fourth of July?

And, where the Hell is the dance? I'm still looking!

The Fab Four Lady,
Angela Frances Todd

'Men of the kitchen'

Who says men can't cook? Well, the Men's Guild of Holy Family Catholic Church in Inkster surely can. The members recently rolled up their sleeves, donned aprons, took over the kitchen at the church, and prepared a delicious fish dinner for friends and guests. It was the Guild's annual fund raiser. Pictured above are Father John Lehner (first row, from left), Darryl Atkinson, president; John Shannon; Brian Ciekiewicz Sr.; Mark Franklin; Tarrar Forbes; Darlie Atkinson, and Nakia Livingston.; second row are Antwon Baker, Hogan Bonam Jr., Lorenzo Brown, Roy Wilson, Vernon Howard, and Ushell Floyd.

YWCA launches search for Women of Achievement

The YWCA of Western Wayne County has launched its annual search for a few good women.

The "Y" is seeking candidates to honor as part of its "Women of Achievement" program to be staged this year at noon on Friday, Nov. 3 at the Fairlane Club in Dearborn.

Monica Gayle, an award-winning journalist with WJBK Fox, Channel 2 News, is the Mistress of Ceremonies for the program, while Marnette Perry, president of the Kroger Company of Michigan will be the keynote speaker.

The organization is seeking candidates to honor in the following categories: Arts/Communications; Business/Industry; Government/Law; Professions; Volunteer Service; and Young Woman who have contributed to the community.

Women of Achievement Awards recognize women who reside or work in Western Wayne County and have demonstrated qualities of outstanding leadership and excellence in both their professional and personal endeavors for the betterment of their community.

Listed below are the categories and the criteria to nominate a candidate:

- Arts/Communications - A woman who has excelled in the arts, media or public relations. Such fields include visual, literary and performing arts, journalism, television/radio;

- Business/Industry - A woman who has exhibited outstanding abilities and accomplishments as an entrepreneur, or at the technical/professional, management or executive level;

- Government/Law - A woman who has provided exceptional leadership in government or the legal profession, either in an elected or career capacity;

- Professions - A woman who has demonstrated excellence and commitment as a professional in the field of education, health, human services, religion or research;

- Volunteer Service - A woman who has made significant contributions to her community through her volunteer efforts;

- Young Woman - A young woman of today, age 16-23, who has demonstrated leadership qualities, service to her community and a positive glimpse of tomorrow's woman.

Among members of the "Women of Achievement" committee are: Mary Ann Riley, and Carolyn Kimbrough, co-chairs; Deborah Miller, event coordinator; Corrine Vincent; executive director; Lila Alcodray Amen; Shelly Burgor; Barbara Diamond; Viola Dougherty; Joan Dyer-Zinner; Naomi James; Autumn Kucka; Valerie Latzman; Willia Miller; Kay Neff; Clementine Payton; Margie Rose; Maria Leohauser Rosenau, and Nancy Smith.

The deadline to submit the names of candidates for "Women of Achievement" is 5 p.m. on Aug. 1. Please mail (or drop off) candidates names to: YWCA of Western Wayne County, 26279 Michigan Avenue, Inkster, Mich. 48181.

For further information, contact the YWCA of Western Wayne County by dialing 313/561-4110. The 'Y's' Fax number is 313/561-7344.

Former resident to lead Chamber Technology Business Initiative

A Romulus native and outstanding football player, Johnathan M. Holifield, has been named to lead a new initiative of the Greater Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce.

The initiative will focus on growing the technology sector of the region's economy.

Holifield is the son of Vivian Holifield, secretary of the NAACP Western Wayne County branch.

Holifield will work collaboratively with other organizations to enhance the networking, financial, workforce, legislative and research assets available to high technology companies in the region.

Plans include establishing a technology council.

Holifield, 35, joins the Chamber as a vice president and member of its management group after practicing law for four years with the Cincinnati firm of Manley, Burke and Lipton. He has served as an assistant prosecuting attorney for Hamilton County.

Holifield graduated from West Virginia University and received his master and law degree from the University of Cincinnati. He played professional football for the Cincinnati Bengals in 1988 and 1989.

Holifield is active in numerous civic organizations. He serves on the boards of Downtown Cincinnati Inc., YMCA of Greater Cincinnati, Cincinnati Branch NAACP, and Artworks.

Debbie Romak, thanks for egging on blight enforcement in Romulus

To the editor:
I am writing this letter today to thank a Romulus Council Person - Debbie Romak, for going the extra mile for us and taking care of an ongoing problem we have been having for the past two years with the Romulus Ordinance Department.

The problem started two years ago when a house was torn down across the street from my parents home. Since that time the property has remained vacant and the owner has done nothing with the property.

The grass has been left to grow knee high, bushes and shrubs are overgrown, tree branches from past storms litter the yard, and most disturbing is an old camper trailer that has become a hangout for young kids and stray animals. My parents have lived in Romulus and paid their taxes for the past 50 years. They are now 80 years old and my father is now in a wheelchair, so he's unable to get out much. They have always taken pride and have cared for their home, yard and neighborhood. Now that they are homebound it's a shame they can't even enjoy sitting in their yard without having a mess like this to look at, not to mention all the stray animals and kids roaming around.

They have continually called the Romulus Ordinance Department who drive by (and don't even bother to get out of their car), issue the owner a ticket, she goes to court, pays her fine and the whole mess starts all over again with nothing being resolved.

We have a graduation party coming up in July and would like this matter settled by then. With time running short we've taken the next step and contacted Mayor Oakley's office. They are more than polite but just continue to say they'll look into it.

Finally I contacted Debbie Romak and explained our dilemma. Within two days the city trucks were out cutting grass and whipping weeds. The trailer still continues to sit there with animals and children going in and out but Debbie Romak has gotten more done for us in two weeks than the Ordinance Department has in two years and I thank her for that.

We are very fortunate to have a council person who truly cares for the city and the people of Romulus. Someone we can depend on to listen to our problems, but more than that, someone who will take action and get something done!

Sincerely
Mary Lewkowicz

Annapolis doctor went beyond call of duty to treat patient

To the editor:
I am writing this letter to recognize acts of kindness and compassion that I think should no go un-noticed.

My cousin is a patient of Dr. Norman MacDermid at the Oakwood Health Center in Belleville. She is very ill, and is on numerous medications, including pain medications. She is not old enough to be eligible for Medicare. She was on Medicaid to help cover her medical expenses, as her illness makes it impossible for her to work. Most days she is too ill even to get out of bed. Recently Medicaid canceled all of her coverage and informed her that she could continue coverage if she wanted to pay $750.00 per month. Firstly this is a ridiculous amount for one person to pay for insurance, and secondly where is she to get this kind of money?

Now that I have given you some of the history behind this story, I would like to tell you about Dr. MacDermid and Annapolis Hospital.

Dr. MacDermid has been a guardian angel to my cousin. He is not only caring and compassionate with her, he goes way beyond his call of duty. He calls her to check on her, he has taken flowers on occasion when she has been hospitalized, he had told her if she can not find a way to his office he would personally come and pick her up. His most recent act of kindness was to make it possible for her to get the pain medication she desperately needed. He has treated my cousin like she was a member of his own family. In today's fast paced, self centered world, to run across a human being that still cares about people is very refreshing.

Dr. MacDermid is not the only person who deserves recognition. Annapolis Hospital (Oakwood, Wayne) has also gone way beyond their call of duty. On a recent emergency visit to the hospital, the "angels" at Annapolis were unable to help my cousin get the testing done that she desperately needed. The act of kindness was to help here, rather than turn her away for lack of insurance coverage.

I do hope that this letter does not bring people to Dr. MacDermid or Annapolis Hospital that would try to take advantage of their caring or compassion. That would truly be sad. I do hope that what this letter will do is to remind us all that 'human kind' is not lost. There are still truly 'good' people in this world, and that it will restore your faith in people, just as Dr. MacDermid and Annapolis Hospital has restored our family's faith in such a time of heart ache.

Dr. MacDermid and Annapolis Hospital, thank you and God bless you!!!

Sincerely
Robbin Fischer

Consumer Annual Report on Water Quality

Introduction

In compliance with the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments, the City of Inkster Water Department is providing its customers with the 1999 annual report on water quality. This report explains where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and State standards. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water.

What is the Source of my Water?

The City of Inkster purchases water wholesale from the City of Detroit. Two (2) of the five (5) Detroit water treatment plants supply water to the City of Inkster.

Specifically:

1. Springwells Water Treatment Plant, located at Warren Road and Springwells, in the city of Detroit. This plant draws its raw surface water from the Belle Isle intakes on the East end of the island. This site is near the juncture of Lake St. Clair and the mouth of the Detroit River.

2. Southwest Water Treatment Plant, located on Moran Road in Allen Park, draws its raw surface water from the Detroit River near Fighting Island. The actual intake lies east of the International boundary line between Canada and the United States.

Note: Data is from various maps and drawings held by (DWDS) Detroit Water and Sewer Department.

Opportunities for Public Participation

3. The regular scheduled council meetings are the first and third Monday of each month. There are also public hearing and meetings open to the public. To confirm dates and times or for information on other activities, please contact the City Clerk's Office at (313) 563-9772 or (313) 563-9781.

Do I Need to Take Special Precautions?

4. Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800) 426-4791.

Why are There Contaminants in my Water?

5. Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800) 426-4791.

The sources of drinking water (both tap and bottle water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring mineral and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water before we treat it include:

-Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.

-Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.

-Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, stormwater runoff, and residential uses.

-Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.

-Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Is Our Water System Meeting Other Rules That Govern Our Operations?

6. The City of Inkster is currently in Compliance with State and Federal requirements regarding water quality.

Other Information

7. During 1999 a water gate valve repair and or replacement program was initiated to address the 27 deficient water gates throughout the city.

Water Quality Data Table

8. The water quality data table on pages 5-8 list all the contaminants that were detected during monitoring for the 1999 calendar year. The presence of these contaminants in the water, does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. Definitions of the terms and abbreviations used in the table are listed below.

Key to Detected Contaminants Tables
Symbol	Abbreviation for	Definition/Explanation
MCLG	Maximum Contaminant Level Goal	The level of contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health.
MCL	Maximum Contaminant Level	The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
ppb	Parts per billion (one in one billion)	The ppb is equivalent to micrograms per liter. A microgram = 1/1000 milligram.
ppm	Parts per million (one in one million)	The ppm is equivalent to milligrams per liter. A milligram = 1/1000 gram.
NTU	Nephelometric Turbidity Units	Measures the cloudiness of water.
TT	Treatment Technique	A required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.
AL	Action Level	The concentration of a contaminant, which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
n/a	Not applicable

Information About Lead

Lead in drinking water is rarely the sole cause of lead poisoning, but it can add to a person's total lead exposure. All potential sources of lead in the household should be identified and removed, replaced or reduced.

Infants and young children are typically more vulnerable to lead in drinking water than the general population. It is possible that lead levels at your home may be higher than at other homes in the community as a result of materials used in your home's plumbing. If you are concerned about elevated lead levels in your home's water, you may wish to have your water tested and flush your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using tap water. Additional information is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800) 426-4791.

Cryptosporidium

Cryptosporidium is a disease-causing parasite that lives in the intestinal tract of many animals including dogs and cats. Symptoms of infection include diarrhea, abdominal cramps, headaches, nausea and vomiting. The disease is typically spread through contact with feces of an infected animal or person and consuming contaminated food or water. Cryptosporidium can be introduced into bodies of water by way of surface water runoff containing animal waste, and sewage discharge. The Detroit Water and Sewerage Department has been testing for Cryptosporidium since 1994 and has not detected it in any of there source water supplies.

Wakefield offered Wayne job

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Tom Wakefield, who stepped in and took over Wayne Memorial's baseball program four games into the season, was offered the varsity coaching position, school officials announced this week.

The "interim" will be dropped from Wakefield's title, and he will be given an opportunity to continue to build the program.

"I am pleased and happy that they selected me," said Wakefield, on Monday, who was invited to become the interim coach four-games into the season when veteran coach Jim Chronowski was fired by the school's administration for allegedly using expletives during a meeting with some of his players.

The Zebras were 1-3 at that

- William Hawley

time of Chronowski's departure.

Two other candidates also sought the varsity coaching position, and a committee, headed by William Hawley, Wayne Memorial Athletic Director, interviewed all three candidates.

After the interviews, the committee decided to extend Wakefield's contract for another year. High school coaching contracts for all sports are usually for one year after which the administration decides whether to recommend an extension.

"The committee felt that coach Wakefield had earned an extension," said Hawley. "Our team managed to overcome the adverse publicity and, under Mr. Wakefield's guidance, regrouped and salvaged the season. The team managed to reach the district finals."

A Dearborn Heights native who attended and graduated from Taylor Baptist Park, Wakefield was awarded a scholarship to attend Spring Arbor College, near Jackson (Mich.) where he continued to play baseball.

Upon graduation, the young athlete was offered an assistant coaching position at Spring Arbor. He later accepted a similar position at Madonna University, a position he resigned to accept the Wayne Memorial offer.

Wakefield, 25, said he is anxious to build the Wayne program and return it to the greatness it once enjoyed.

"We're going to have to change some attitudes to achieve this," Wakefield admits. "But it can be done. I want to build a dynasty here. I know that it will not happen over night, but it will happen during my tenure. Believe me it will."

In the stretch of the recently concluded campaign, Wakefield made believers out of skeptics. His team defeated Livonia Franklin in the pre-district game, then took on Livonia Churchill, a team that had "mercié" the Zebras earlier the Chargers, 3-1, before losing to district favorite, Garden

City, 10-6, in the district championship game.

Wakefield credits coaching great, Hank Burbridge, for the dedication and zeal he has for baseball and for coaching.

"Coach Burbridge was an inspiration not only urging us to do our best but go beyond. Kids will excel if they have positive models to lead the way."

Burbridge, not only coached at Spring Arbor, he also happens to be the president of the U. S. A. Olympic Baseball Federation as well NAIA (National Association of Inter-collegiate Athletics) president. Burbridge also has been inducted into the Hall of Fame on three different occasions.

"I just hope I can accomplish one iota as much as he (Burbridge) has before I call it quits," said Wakefield.

Heat is hot in WYAA softball

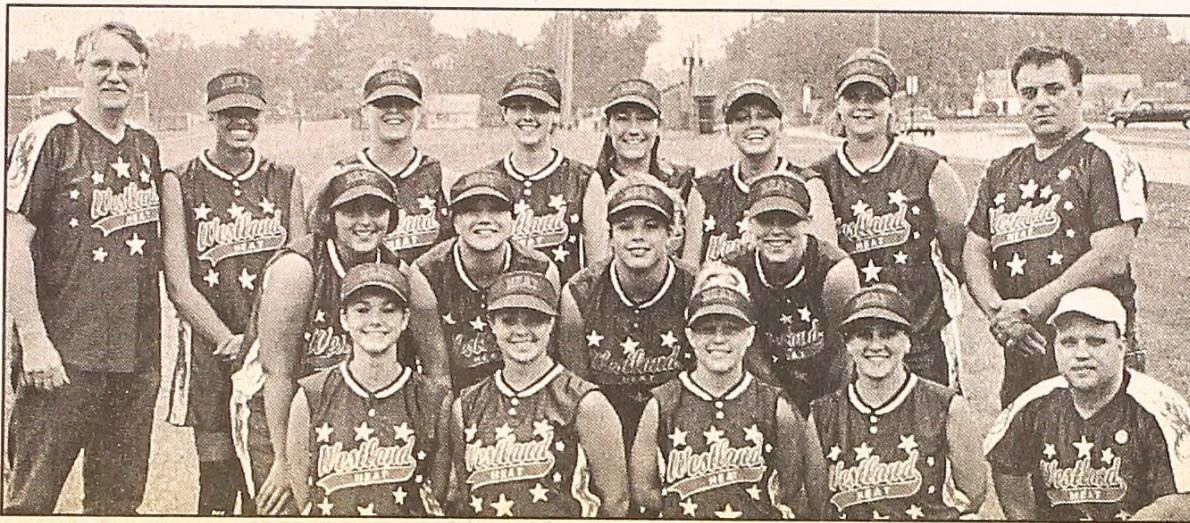

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Considered one of the finest girls' softball teams ever to play in the area, the Heat continues to scorch local and Westland Youth Athletic Association opponents on the softball diamonds this season.

With their first three victories on the Year 2000 campaign, manager George Busch's ball club has managed to stretch its winning streak to an incredible 37 games.

"These kids are phenomenal. They are a pleasure to coach," said Busch who, with Dale Webb and Bryan Busch, has put together a lineup that appears destined to make history in girls' softball. "The chemistry definitely on this team has been there for us."

Over recent years, the Heat has won the USSSA State's Slow Pitch Tournament in Milford, and was runnerup in 1999 in the prestigious Brookville, Ohio

One of the hottest teams in the area, the Heat has won its last 37 games and has dominated the Westland Youth Athletic Association girls' softball league over the last three years. The champs are seeking to extend their dominance in the league, and beyond. The "Heat" lineup includes Jessica Seres (front row, from left), Chelsea Busch, Mickey Vangoff, Sarah King and coach Bryan Busch; in the second row are Heidi Pulam, Holly Deedler, Julie Busch, and Amanda Kinney; third row are coach Dale Webb, Natalie Zambrowski, Sarah Crews, Bitsy Webb, Shelly Hein, Roxann Corp, Samantha "Sammy" Crews, and team manager George Busch.

Invitational. They regrouped and came back later in 1999 to capture the first-place trophy for the Richmond, Indiana Tournament.

Led by Wayne State University-bound Sammy Crews, who will be attending the university on a softball scholarship, the Heat also has dominated WYAA competition over a span of three years.

Crews, along with outfielder Mickie Vangoff, Chelsea and Julie Busch - the manager's daughters - have played major roles in the success of the team.

It is interesting to note that the "Heat's" lineup includes players whose fathers have starred for either Wayne Memorial or Westland John Glenn in the past.

Among the team's other notable players are Jessica Seres, Sarah King, Heidi Pulam, Holly Deedler, Amanda Kinney, Natalie Zambrowski, Sarah Crews, Bitsy Webb, Shelly Hein, and Roxann Corp.

Busch, who has managed the "Heat" for the past five years, said that, because of the team's success, opponents usually gun for the team, and would like probably give anything to be the team that ends the champ's winning streak.

"Because of notoriety when a team has so much success, others obviously would like to beat us. It's natural. These kids know it and that's why every time they go out there they give more than 100 percent."

"This is the kind of team that comes along once in a lifetime, and believe me, the coaching staff and myself are very happy that we were so fortunate of being in the right place at the right time when these kids came out for the sport."

Patteway tosses not-hitter as Hawks shut out Rails

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It was Roland Patteway's day, and the Hawks' right-hander didn't let the opportunity slip by him Saturday at the Michigan Great 8 Baseball Invitational.

Called upon to pitch in Game No. 3 of the tournament against the Lincoln Park Rails by manager Hawks' manager Richard Orsetti, Patteway came through as he tossed his first no-hitter of the season, struck out three and walked five en route to a 14-0 shutout in the Little Caesar-Connie Mack League.

The league is made up of 17-18 year olds.

"I have never seen him pitch better," said Orsetti, who also coaches the varsity team at Robichaud. "It was a tremendous effort."

While Patteway was busy putting down the Rails, his teammates were busy at the plate. Three of the Hawks turned in with three-hits apiece.

Ryan Hale had a perfect day. The Hawks' leadoff hitter laced three singles. Mark Dare chipped in with a two-run homer in the fourth inning and also had a run-scoring single, while Tony Perish drilled a pair of doubles in his three trips to the plate.

The Hawks also got a triple and a single from Jeff Lafavors in his three appearances at the plate.

The Hawks started the series, split between Madonna University and Ypsilanti High School fields, on the short end of a 9-4 decision against the Michigan Braves who got to losing pitcher Ryan Swierlek early. Howard Pinkston and LaFavors stood out at the plate for the losers. Pinkston hammered a solo homer for one of his two hits, while Lafavors had three hits for the game, including a run-scoring triple.

weekend, the Hawks managed to turn back the Michigan Lake Area Rams, 12-5, as right-hander Mark Dare, getting some relief help from Justin Hill, got the victory. Dare worked the first four-innings before yielding to Hill.

Hale led the assault on Rams' pitching as he carved out two hits, including a double and had 2 RBIs, in the victory.

Orsetti started Hale on the mound and he lasted three innings before Justin Hill was called into duty. But after two complete innings, Orsetti removed the reliever in favor of Lafavors, who finished up.

Hale was charged with the loss.

Orsetti's Hawks began the week with a 4-3 overall record.

All-Area Baseball Team up next

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The high school baseball season may be history, but the final chapter is yet to be written.

That "final chapter" will include the Michigan Community Newspapers' All-Area Team and MCN's Coach of the Year.

MCN Staff Writers were busy on phones this week talking to area coaches, gathering names and vital statistics of potential candidates for the annual landmark Year 2000

High School All-Area and the lineup will be finalized this weekend.

As in the past 38 editions, the All-Star team is also made up of top players from their respective teams. Their stats have been compiled, analyzed and compared with others and those who have the grades will make the line-up which was put together by MCN sports staff, in cooperation with the area coaches.

This year's roster is made up of players from Western Lakes Conference Divisional champs Plymouth-Canton, Plymouth-Salem, and also from players from Westland John Glenn, Wayne Memorial, Belleville, Romulus, Robichaud and Inkster. No candidate was nominated this season from Inkster High.

Among candidates for the Coach of the Year are Salem's Dale Rumberger and Canton's Scott Dickie. Both had outstanding records.

The All-Area Team Roster, with brief player sketches, along with the Coach of the Year, will appear in the Sports Section of next week's edition of the Michigan Community Newspapers.

Readers who believe a candidate may have been overlooked during the selection process are urged to contact MCN Staff Writer Tom Mooradian.

Mooradian can be reached by dialing 734-729-4000.

Baseball fans may also "fax-over" statistical information. That number is 734-729-4000.

Antieu leads golfers

Carding a one-under-par 71, Jan Antieu of Brighton emerged as medalist at the Women's Suburban Golf Association Tournament staged Friday at Hudson Mills.

Antieu's score was the best for the First Flight, Low Net competitors in the WSGA. Lil Vandenbroeker's 85 set the pace in the flight, and was the best of the Low Gross scores.

Joel Scheffler

Soccer star overcomes obstacles

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

If Joel Scheffler doesn't play in another soccer game or kick another soccer ball, he has already left an indelible mark on the sport and his teammates and classmates.

Joel is remembered by all as a courageous youngster who wouldn't allow a dreaded disease from stopping him from accomplishing one of life's important goals - from graduating from high school.

The Belleville senior, whose brother Jeremy,

Illness doesn't stop him earned national acclaim in the sport, was stricken with leukemia and was forced to the sidelines. He had played for the Tigers' varsity soccer team for three years, and was showing great strides in the sport when the disease surfaced.

"It really hurt to see him like that - unable to play the sport he truly loved," said Gloria Scheffler, Joel's mother. "But he had to conserve his energy and strength for one of the greatest battles of his young life."

Joel needed a marrow transplant, and his brother, Jeremy, was a perfect match.

"There is usually a 30 percent chance of a sibling being a perfect match," Scheffler explained. "But Jeremy was, and on March 20, doctors at the University of Michigan Hospital (Ann Arbor) performed the operation that has saved his life."

Joel was released from the hospital in April, but the marrow transplant left him too weak to attend classes at the high school. School officials agreed to allow the young scholar-athlete to complete his instructions at home and, thanks to Nina Adkins, his principal at Belleville High, classes were provided under the tutelage of Becky Smith.

"We're very thankful and grateful to all of those who helped us during this very difficult time," Mrs. Scheffler said. "Ken, my husband, and I and the family want to thank all for their support and kindness."

Sports Beat

Here's what is happening on the Sports Beat this week:

Van Buren offers workshop

Van Buren Township Parks and Recreation officials announced this week they are offering a series of gymnastics workshops for youngsters 7- years-old and up.

The workshops will be staged at the Van Buren Municipal Center gymnasium, 46425 Tyler Road. There is a $25 per session registration fee. Non-residents are welcomed, but the fee to register is $40.

The workshops are scheduled to begin on Saturday, June 24; the second session is July 15, and the third begins on Aug. 19.

The classes stress the fundamentals of gymnastics. Qualified instructors will be on hand to conduct classes. Participants are urged to bring a light lunch and beverage.

Belleville hosts tennis classes

If you're interested in improving your tennis game you may want to check out the Van Buren Township's tennis classes offered at Belleville High School.

The classes are on-going and will be held until July 17. To register, residents will be asked to fill out a waiver form. Registration fees are $30 for residents; $40 for non-residents.

WBA looking for baseball teams

Wayne Baseball Association officials still have room for a couple of good baseball teams for its 14th annual Late Summer Classic Tournament.

The dates for the summer classic are July 28-July 30, and team rosters should be made up of players in the 13-14 age group.

There is a July 17 deadline to register for this tournament.

WBA officials say that there also will be awards presented to teams that finish first and second. A rules' meeting will be held on July 19 at the Wayne Baseball Building, located at 34630 Annapolis, in Wayne.

Mail team entry forms and fees payable to the Wayne Baseball Association in C/O: Jeff Auer, 4814 Princess, Dearborn Heights, Mich. 48125.

Officials also announced that the WBA has set June 3 as the Opening Day for the Year 2000 season.

The WBA is also looking for a few qualified baseball umpires. If you have questions, you may also want to contact Dave Schofield at 734-326-9747.

Westland dad seeks skaters

A Westland father, whose daughter loves to play hockey, is seeking skaters to complete a roster for a team which will compete in the 7-10 age bracket or 12-15 age group.

Kermit Pennington said he looked for a league for his daughter to compete in and discovered the nearest city that could accommodate him was Monroe, so he decided to field his own team.

Those interested in the sport and have an eligible player may contact Kermit Pennington at Ben Paull Heating at 1-734-282-6624.

Pennington says that he has contacted former NHL pro Dave Matheson to teach team members power skating. Matheson began coaching junior hockey players in Ontario and Sweden after his NHL career ended.

Canton golf date is set

Canton Township recreation officials remind golfers who plan to attend the township's annual Junior Golf Clinic that they must register before July 6.

The clinics will be staged July 12, 19, 26 and Aug. 2. Officials note that the first clinic will be staged from 10 a.m. until 11 a.m., then they will set up times by age and skill levels.

The clinics will be held at Pheasant Run Golf Club.

Participants will need tennis or golf shoes, a 3 or 5 wood or 7 or 9 iron and putter to take part in the classes.

There is no residency requirements, and those interested may sign up between the hours of 8:20 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the Canton Parks and Recreation Offices, 46000 Summit Parkway, Canton, Mich. 48188.

Anderson tourney teams are needed

Larry Quartuccio, tournament director of the annual Leonard J. Anderson Memorial Invitational Softball Tournament, reminds softball managers there isn't much more time remaining to sign up teams for the July classic.

For more information, contact Quartuccio at 606-384-7578 or Keith at the Wayne Parks at 721-7400.

Outstanding year

Romulus coach Norb Glover (at left) and Ashley Terry, senior sprinter, have many reasons to smile this season. Glover's Eagles captured the state's top prize, the Division II Track & Field state championship, ending a state title drought that extended more than 50 years. (1945 was the last time the high school won a state track and field title). Ashley made a major contribution to winning the state title and he has gone on to star in the post season as well. He played a key role in the relays: Romulus won the 3,200 and the 1,600-meter relay events at state. Also, Terry competed in the Best of the West Invitational at Ashland University in Ohio, where he was clocked in 48.8 in the 400-meter dash, and that earned for him a fifth-place medal. Ashley also competed in the 4 by 400-meter relay. The team, made up of three other Michigan regional champs, wound up in a photo finish with Wisconsin and Michigan was awarded the silver medal. Michigan's foursome was clocked in 3:15.

Wayne Wolves finish second at Allen Park baseball tourney

Playing their first major baseball tourney of the summer, Wayne-Ford's Wolves settled for a second-place trophy after losing in the championship round to a strong Trenton contingent at the Allen Park Invitational.

"We had two bad innings all weekend, and that was the difference," said Wolves manager Bill Hardin.

"Playing in a 12-and-under tournament against all 12-year-olds with a solid 11-year-old lineup was good experience for our team," noted Hardin. "I feel we are going to be all-right the rest of the way."

The Wolves opened up the tournament with a 6-0 shutout over Allen Park as Jamell Terrys tossed a two-hitter and struck out 15.

In their next outing, the Wolves faced the Pirates of Riverview and buried their opponents 22-0 as Wolves' hurlers Alex Conant and J. J. Pierce combined for the shutout.

The Wolves then ran up against Wyandotte in the semifinals. The winner would advance to play the pre-tournament favorites, Trenton, for the championship.

With pitcher Anthony Savene in control all the way, Wayne-Ford erased the Braves from their path, 22-3, to clinch a berth in the finals. Savene notched 12 strikeouts in the win.

But Wayne-Ford proved no match for the seasoned and undefeated Trenton ball club which handed the Wolves a 10-0 setback. The Wolves used three pitchers, including Chris Holcomb, Terry and Toby Matchulat.

Defensively, Wayne-Ford received commendable performances from Jacob Greene, Elliott Hall, and Josh Brewer. Named to the All-Tournament Team from the Wolves were Alex Conant, Anthony Savone, Billy Hardin, and Jamell Terry.

Rounding out the Wayne-Ford roster are Michael Broughton, Aaron Dolkowski, Bryon Glenn, Nathan Kias, and Will Lewis.

The Wolves will travel to Flushing for their next tournament. They'll be trying to improve on their 15-5 overall record.

Want to officiate a high school contest?

Individuals interested in becoming a high school athletic game official for the 2000-2001 school year may now register with the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

From now until July 1, Michigan's 11,000-plus game officials in 14 sports are urged to submit their application. The July date is an important one, as it is the deadline for officials who wish to be listed in the MHSAA's annual directory.

"We always encourage officials to register before July 1, so they can be listed in the MHSAA Official's Directory," said Bill Bupp, MHSAA supervisor of officials. "That is very beneficial for officials looking for work and schools looking for officials."

"Officials listed in the directory are also more visible candidates for approved association membership. Approved association benefits are numerous, so we encourage officials to either seek memberships or be asked to join a local group well before the new school year begins."

While early registration is heavily encouraged, Bupp added that new officials are free to register with the MHSAA any time during the year.

MHSAA registration fees are among the lowest in the nation. Ten dollars is charged for each sport an official wishes to work, and the processing fee is $15.

Officials registered in 1999-2000 will be assessed a late fee of $20 for registration after July 1. The processing fee includes liability insurance coverage of up to $1 million for officials while working MHSAA contests.

The 2000-01 school year will be the ninth for the MHSAA's Legacy Program, which allows high school seniors to become registered officials with limited opportunities.

Under the Legacy program high school seniors, who are at least 17, are eligible to be registered for one year in any of Michigan's 14 sports and to officiate contests in grades seven and eight while working with a mentor who is an approved official.

Last year, 37 high school seniors took part in the program.

For more information about the officiating program, or any other MHSAA program, contact the MHSAA at 1661 Ramblewood Drive, East Lansing, Mich. 48823. Telephone 517/332-5046.

Tigers seek 'Field of Dream' players

In your Field of Dreams do you see yourself in the Detroit Tigers' uniform or line-up?

Or at the Tigers' Fantasy Camp in Lakeland, Florida?

It is possible to make those dreams come true, you know. The Tigers can help you realize those dreams.

The Detroit Tigers today announced their complete line-up of fantasy activities for the coming 10 months, including their Field of Dreams weekend at Tiger Stadium and Comerica Park, the Golf Outing, Fantasy Cruise on the SS Norway, and the winter Fantasy Camp in Lakeland.

Fields of Dreams camps will take place at both Tiger Stadium and Comerica Park this summer.

Field of Dreams camps provide the opportunity to feel like a true professional ball-player (sans salary, obviously). Participants play 10 games on the field and play on Friday night under the lights.

The games are played under the direction of former Tigers.

Participants receive lunch both days of the camp, two parties, a clubhouse locker assignment, and a complete Tigers home uniform to keep.

The Tiger Stadium camp will take place July 7-9. Camps scheduled for Comerica Park include July 28-30, Sept. 8-10 and Sept. 22-24.

The second annual Detroit Tigers golf outing will take place Nov. 5-8 at the Desert Inn, Las Vegas. The weekend will provide the opportunity for avid golfers to play with and receive tips from or give tips to former Tigers including Al Kaline, Mickey Lolich, Lance Parrish and Jack Morris.

The third annual Detroit Tigers Cruise on the SS Norway takes place Dec. 9-16. The weeklong cruise through the Caribbean Sea provides the opportunity to escape the cold winter months and will include private cocktail parties with former and current Tigers, as well as a private autograph and photo session.

34th District Court hosts challenge plan for troubled youth

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A free orientation program offering a second chance for at risk youth (ages 16-18) is being offered by the 34th District Court of Romulus.

The program, to be administered by the Michigan National Guard, will be known as the Michigan Youth Challenge Academy (MYCA).

The orientation program for the MYCA effort will be held from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Romulus Double Tree Hotel, 31500 Wick Road.

The program is free to participants and carries no obligation to join the military, program leaders explain.

It is designed to help high school dropouts get a GED or high school diploma, improve life skills and improve the chance of employment through military-style discipline.

In addition to 400 hours of classroom instruction, cadets will receive leadership, self-discipline, physical and vocational training.

It also offers a 12-month mentorship in the youth's own community.

Cadets perform a minimum of 32 hours of community service and earn eight hours of college credit from Kalamazoo Valley Community College.

For more information call 1-800-372-0523.

Master Plan kick off set in Huron Twp.

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Residents of Huron Township are being urged to attend and get involved at a Master Plan kick off meeting at 7 p.m. June 27 at the Ford Huron Technical Training Center.

This is the community's chance to discuss their future and convey their vision of the township's future, Huron Township leaders state.

They contend the township has changed greatly in the past decade in three key areas: the number of homes, the value of the homes and the median income of township residents.

Along with these changes, township leaders explain other elements have changed including: increases in traffic, decreases in open and vacant land, increased demand for local services (including police, fire and recreation needs), hiked demand for commercial services and higher tax burdens for local citizens.

Thus a document - namely a Master Plan - soon will shape the future of Huron Township.

For more information call John Jackson, principal planner from McKenna Associates, at 248-553-0290.

The location of the meeting site is Room E-1. The street address is 17757 Woodland Dr. in the Huron Commerce Center. It is located north of Sibley and west of I-275.

Library is located on the west side of Canton Center Road, between Cherry Hill and Palmer (just south of Canton Township Hall). For more information call 734-397-0999. Later this summer other book sales are planned.

HAVE A HEART WEEKEND featuring performances by Scobby-Doo and his friends will be offered at Laurel Park Place in Livonia from 5 to 9 p.m. on July 7 and at Wonderland Mall from noon to 5 p.m. on July 8 and 9. Funds raised that weekend will be provided to upgrade vehicles used by the Michigan Humane Society's staff. Pets also are urged to be brought along to take part in the Pet Look Alike Contest. Those provided a $25 do-
